Direct Beneficiaries: ~ 150 Students

Indirect Beneficiaries: ~300 (parents, siblings, families)

The Program is dedicated to the holistic growth and well-being of children in the community by providing inclusive and developmentally appropriate learning opportunities. During the reporting period, the program focused on enhancing children's educational achievement, social skills, emotional development, and creative abilities through a range of structured and interactive activities.

In this program, children participated in academic support sessions, life-skills education, creative and recreational activities, and social development initiatives designed to promote confidence, collaboration, and critical thinking. These planned actions contributed to measurable improvements in learning engagement, positive behavior, and overall participation among the students.
